Company Name | Intelli logics

Actually I love to code so I started as a junior flutter developer, the app were android, iOS, and mac OS based, basically my role was a UI Designer. Slowly and steadily I started working on small projects and with the passage of time I developed some small projects.

Installment app

This is my first big project that I developed. This app has two phases, one for User and the other one for Admin. I completely developed this project using firebase as a backend.

Grocery app

This is my second big project that I developed using firebase as a backend with stripe payment integration.

Practice based project

I have built lots of small practice based projects. Like

- Binaural Beats
- World Country Information
- Psychological facts
- Wallpaper app
- To-do app
- And many more like that

Tools

Visual studio code, Android studio, git
